WEEKDAY COLLECTION DESIGN BY HANNES & FRITZ

First designed as an impromptu solution to a lack of seating at a dinner party, designers Hannes & Fritz refined their idea to create Weekday – a collection of outdoor benches and tables for HAY.

Retaining the original idea of bringing people together, Weekday's solid, robust presence and softly rounded joints convey a sense of warmth and familiarity that invites shared dining and a social atmosphere. Featuring the same construction as the classic picnic table and bench, Weekday is made in strong, durable pine planks that will patinate beautifully and last for many years to come.

Weekday's strong yet universally appealing character combined with its multiple size options and water-based, weather-resistant surface treatment makes it suitable for outside use in a wide range of settings, from cafés and public parks to private or shared gardens. Made in solid pine in different finishes and colour options, with the possibility to supplement benches with seat cushions in selected textiles for extra comfort.

Hannes & Fritz is a design collaboration between German-Swiss design duo Johannes Breuer and Fritz Gräber, who met at ECAL in Lausanne, Switzerland. What started as a friendship developed into a spontaneous design collaboration with the construction of a bench at a dinner party, and resulted in their successful partnership. Both designers bring their unique skillset to the collaboration, with Fritz favouring a more dynamic, expressive design language, whilst Hannes takes a more linear approach. The duo design for a number of international furniture companies, often starting their projects by exploring existing archetypal forms, before defining them in a more contemporary context. For HAY, Hannes & Fritz have designed the Weekday Table and Bench collection.

Weekday Bench Collection

Weekday is reminiscent of the familiar picnic table and bench.

Weekday is made in strong, durable pine plank.

Weekday was inspired by a primitive bench built by the designers at a dinner party that they later modified and made into a collection of outdoor tables and benches.
